Che Rutland Berald RUTLAND, VT.

G. H. BEAMAN. Editor & Publisher. TERMS PER YEAR.

Village subserviors when paid in advance.

tractice mante commissionaly insertedice prayears (16 lines) for three weeks; 25 100 square will be charged for each sub-mat fraction.

ELDREDGE & JOHNSON.

DEALERS IN LAND WARRANTS, Por 160 Aere Warrante.

DE MARCHISTS Uterine Catholicon. Rosland, Feb. 6, 1952. C. Henr & Son

BOOT & SHOE STORE. IN STREET, HUTLAND, VERMONT. Take Store formerly occupied by O. L. Rebins to doors north of the Court House, where map he found all heads of BOOTS AND SHOPS for both sense, whildren's wear fire, on as reasonable terms as at any other establishment. Please call and summer. P. MYETT. Ruthand, Feb. 12, 1957 71f

PATENT MEDICINES NO CURE NO PAYIN

II. L. SPENCER Has made such arrangements that he will be reafter be supplied by the Manufacturers with all the popular PATENT MEDICINES of the day-many of which are trarranted to generatisfaction to the purchaser or the money will be refunded. IT Be sure and call of the "Old Patent Medicine Emporium" nearly opposite the Franklin Hotel.

rew jeweleb's shop.

H. G. & 4. W. CLARK would respect-lend and ricinity that they have opened a drep in Perkins' Block, Merchants Row, G. & 4. W. CLARK would respect Of Watche, Watch Trimmings, Clocks. Jewelry Silver War, Spectacles, Pancy Goods, &c. &c.

WATCHES CLOCKS, A JEWFIRY. Neatly Repaired and Warranted. BUTLAND, VT. SCHOOL BOOKS

A large supply of the Books recommended for use in Rutland Co, now on hand-and Merchants and others, at los

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral! M L SPENCER to the ONLY AUTHORIZED AGENT for

THE EURAPHARITA OF ALERANDE (The gennine article.)

from the proprietors, (Barrett & Son)sold !-SPENCER. LADVERTISE nothing that I do not keep Muf cod.

Russian Liniament, BUSSIA SALVE C. BURT & SON

Ratland, Feb. 10, 1852. GEORGE SCHMILT. (Late from the city of New York.)

WATERS HAIR DY Por Sale at SPEN ATT

SPRING GOODS O SURT & SON DRY GOODS, Druge. Milicines and Dyes.

Locking Glasses. Shoe Kitana Findings. Patent Medleine

Miler's Axes. Time Agas exceed any arbitr for been edge, and experior faith. They are now effect for sain here and exercanted by Butland, Feb. 23 C. BOT & SON.

RECEIVED and for sale by cher's Lectures TO YOUNG ME SPENCER.

PORTERO & COM MON POW DER 1000 Chairs for Sale.

COSOUTH HATS, 1858.

BSADT-MADE COFFINS. PUNDOR WAD WEVARR,

New Books, one's Life of Land Joffers, by Borels—illustrated edition, re History of Virginia, Entocky, Honorhold Library, 12 Vale., leastfold's Life of Gon. brott, set's Japonile Series 12 Vole., vley's word and Progress of the United States, the states of the Progress of the United States, the States of Medicine of the States of Prom the Literary Magazine. THE GRAVE IN MARKOWSO. BY WIGNOR.

Among the members of the Academy of Dusseldorf was a young artist, with ance during my residence in that city in the year 184-As we lived near each other, we were often together, and when in the latter part of February we succeeded in obtime to pass unimproved. Gladsome and Joyful, the lours unfolded them-

Hogo had traveled. From his yet budding genius might fully develop light. As I don't near my ear caught treeff. After passing a happy month to- the soft and plaintive nates of song. gether, his father leaving him with a Greeping mitelessly forward, I conworthy friend, returned to Germany - coaled myself behind an Acacia from to his descriptions of the antiquities of I beheld the lady of my adventure .the land of the Casars, Socrates, Cicero. At first I ascribed the lovely vision to no be caused them to pass like magic my imagination, believing myself in a ried nature, requiring her dues, folded me in the gentle draw of sleep. One at soon assured me of the reality. The his adventures which I took down in following stanzas, which I had an oppor-his own words, I will here relate. tunity to take down, formed part of the During the second year of my residence in Venice, he bezan, 'I often ettended divine service in the Catholic Church, as I then favored that doctrine The day is ended, meht is coming and most. St. Michael's was the chapel I usually visited. It contains Paul Veronese's master-piece. The Wedding of Carn, paintings by Raphael and other great masters, and is situated in a garden looking upon the caual of St. Mark, which separates the island of Murano from Venice.

One lovely evening in July, after the service was concluded, I seated myself on a bench raised against a venerable locust which grew near the chapel, and was soon lost in a profound revery. My thoughts wandered far off into loved Germany, and with dear friends from whom I heard nothing in three months. when I was aroused by a heart-rending shriek. Looking up, I saw a young man whose dress showed him to be a nobleman, stretched bleeding on the ground; two others who appeared to be braves. were running towards the canal. They reached a gendola, and rowed swiftly to Murano. I ran to assist the bleeding quis. I accosted him, and touching upyouth, and as well as my knowledge of pon the late murderous deed, the tears the language would permit, inquired of started in the old man's eyes, as he dihis companion, a young stender maiden, lated on the noble character and gener- ing in any other way, but one, than whom I had noticed before, the cause one deeds of the murdered Rivolin. I that !" swered my question. In the mean time ney had hired the ruffians. He said remark was not less comical than sewhom brought a litter, and laying upon ta and the son of an influential nobleit the already lifeless form, bore it to a neighboring house. The lady made no attempt to follow. but stood as if rooted to the ground, gaging after them as they disappeared behind the chapel, and then upon the pool of blood which remained. Already had the clock in the down of the Jesuits tuck ten; already had the gay throng disappeared, leaving the benches in Rui Castello empty. Yet there stood the Signors looking alternately up the path which the bearers had taken and down into the pool by her side. I, too, stood half spell-bound, until the sad, deep tone of the bell of the Franciscians calling to Hora, wafted by the low west wind, fall ling upon my car fairly aroused me. 'Signora,' said I, 'it is near eleven the bell of the Franciscan's culls to prayers." Signore,' said I again, ' midnight is not far distant ; we are left here alone; allow me to accompany you to a more frequented part of the city.'

Deeply solding, she raised slowly her head, over which app ared in rich profusion the dark ringlets of her native clime, took a giance up the path, and at the and token by her side, and then stepped forward.

Unacquainted with the streets as well as the name and habitation of the Signora; I submitted myself to her guidance. After hell an hour's walk, we came to an illuminated open square, which I recognized as that of St. Mark. Here my companionquickened her pace. ran up a flight of marble steps, and en . tered the house. .

I stood some moments in astonishment, and then carefully noticing the mansion, returned to my lodgings. I learned from a friend who accompanied me to the square the next morning that the mansion was the residence of the Marquis Spontini. In the papers a few dave after I read an account of the murder, in Rui Castello of the Marquis Rivolte, and betrethed of the daughter of the Marquis Spontini.

Three months from this and, but now nearly forgotten event, upon a fice autumn day I took a pleasure trip with a friend on the Brenta. The sail was delightful. The picturesque landscapes, the frequent windings of the river, its banks bordered with charming gardens and country seats, and behind as haugh-ty Venice, with its hope churches and ta. the serene autumn beaven all afforded a glorious, enchanting aspect, and left a calm, serene impression upon the

Our gendoller struck up a stanza from Tasso We desisted from our conversation, and accompanied him, when large boarding house on Fourteenth have no time to do this now, let us soon the strain was taken up by his street, New York.

whom I formed an intimate acquaints the Marquie Sponti it earliest youth he cherished a deep love others andert last sat down upon a bank, for painting, and his first instruction I heard a marmaring noise, as from a him at the same time his cap and sau-Choppelle. At the age of afteen, he surpassed his balls played up and down. I remain d teacher, and in the following year his some time gazing at the lovely prospect father - a wealthy mearchant - took him | fafore me and then passed on to a moninto Italy, that in the artist's home his timent which I perceived in the moon-Often have I sat long nights listening which retreat, to my utter astonishment pictures before me ; listening until weat dream ; but those thrilling tones, each one of which was a burden of sad wo, with song:--

"The gargeons splendor now has passed name is Blunt."

Illumes the shoubering spring-all things of Crushed in the bud, the idol of my love

Forced from this glorious light was forced to Pour forth their plaintive strains of grief and Father above, my only hope is fled !

Creator, call me from this bosy throng, O, let me lowly rest beside the dead-All earthly joys from me are past and gone As the last tone died away, she laid the instrument upon the monument, and slowly retired. When she had passed into the house I drew near the monuresting place. Impressed with the sorrowful scene.I retraced my steps, and found on the outside of the garden a mon, whose livery denoted him to be a servant of the Mar-next morning we started for Venice. few date.

Six months passed before I returned. In the first part of May I once more visited Markonso, and at twilight stood again in the garden. All was as before. There stend the statutes, the fourtain still played, and the golden balls still leaned up and down.

I sought the grave of the Marquis: had answered her prayer.

the grave, thinking of the tragic scene of that end evening. In imagination appeared before me the form of the weeping maiden murmuring her words: "Father shove, my only hone is fied! Creator, ca'l me from this busy throng, O, let me lowly real be side the dead— All earthly joys from me are past and gone.

Midnight sounded from the clock. dressed!" tower of the chateau, and rrising, I hastened to my hotel. I lingered two turned to Venice."

one thousand dollars taken from the 'I can assist you with the rest.' bank the day previous, which, with a Probably the robber knew of the words. Oh my head ! my head !thousand dellars taken from the bank. There do you take the Bible, and run -[Brat. Statesman.

Kossuth's sister is keeping a! 'My dear sir,' was the reply, 'you give me coffee if its coffee, bring me tea : I want a change."

HR RITIAND HR

Most readers have heard, perhaps of his reply to a well known and highrespectable gentleman of the South. who introduced himself to him, while standing conversing with some triends

'I should be pleased to make the acquaintance of so distinguished a tunity to take down, formed part of the public servant as Mr Randolph, I am from the city of Bullimore. My Bunt, -old replied Mr. Repholph I should think so, sir ; and he deign I him no further notice.

Equiliy familiary to many, it ma , will be found his reply to a gentlerian who rather forced himsel anon Mr Randolph's notice, while en gazed in conversation with others in a hotel in Virginia.

'I have had the pleasure, Mr Rando'ph, recently of passing your house. 'I am gla I of it,' said Mr Ramlolph' ·I hope you a'ways do it, sir! On one occasion, at Washington, a brother member of Congress was enlightening Mr Randolph as to the name of Marquis Rivolta. It was his "The merchants' said he thave two prices-an 'esking price' and a 'taking price.' I used to send my wife around to make all the purchases for the family, by which we made a saying of from fifteen to twenty per cent. 'I had rather my wife,' said Randolph, bitterly, 'should make her liv-of the sad calendity. Sobs and lears an. asked him if they suspected whose mo- Being a confirmed old bachellor the umph, yielded to the dark promptings in with, on the banks of the Potomac; of his revengeful nature, which resulted 'The man,' he said, 'had followed a in the assassination of the young Mar- large flock of canyass-back, until they quis, and then resumed his addresses, entered a cove, and secreted himself but was again refused. Five weeks sub-behind a log, to await an opportuniwas found a corpse in St. Mark's, hav-ing fallen by the hand of a brave hired time and flading a fair the nee to place Rome, for which city I left Venice in a hind the log, before away blazed the course of life.

was-

'I can't be'n it sir,' replied he, was cometling like a faint apology in at Pierce, or not 's sentatives, and the Democrate bave I'm all confusion this morning; every his smile. It was on my tongue to say 'I spose I shall,' said course does. made out to elect three and the Whige BURGLARY AND THEFT .- On Sun- act words of a quotation from the Bi and said, Now try again, my good felday afternoon last, the house of P. W. ble which I want to use, and as I al- lev! while, with the end of my umbrel to ther side." Deane, Esq., of Grafton, was enter- wave quote corectly, I cannot close la, I gave a little push, and in the cared while the family were at church, my letter until I find the manage; but rings went, and out came the pleasant and robbed of $80 in money, and a strange to sav. I forgot both the chapbout $30 worth of silver spoons, &c. ter and the verse. I never was at The silver was found at some dis- fault before, sir. What shal I do?

'It begins,' said he with how have over that page, while I am writing the remainder of my address.' take the letter. Hible and all on beard

Now, John, you have heard commands; but you need not obey am unless you above to do so me You can, if you prefer it, when you arrive in Philadelphia call on the Man umission Society, and they will make on free; and I shall never look after you. Do you hear sit?"

This or just aspersion of John's love This unjust aspersion of John's love Letter from Major Jack Downing Joshua f gure up. He was setting to was to much for the faithful fellow; Downing to State or Maine, I the table with his speciacles on, and the his check swelled, his lip quivered. his eves filled-and he replied in great agitation.

'Massa John, this is to hard!' I don't deserve it. You know I love you better than anyholy; and you inst in this case; you have annished like one of his own family, and I think gery, jest as 'twas when Harrison office him severely enough by leaving him is would be shout the hardest one of the in being severely enough by leaving him to want to nort with, unless 'tis toh, I guess not,' save I for I wants behind you, without harring his feelings. You have world the poor fell one of 'emits is Aunt K sish or the law has played the muchief with this low erv. Mr Randolph. .

'What,' said he with true emotion. does he shed tears ?"

'I was irritated, sir,' he added turning to me; 'I thank you for the re

A sporting friend was once relating John justantly brightened un-soon Hickory's time, and he couldn't never though, the State was going back to man. Spoutini left his daughter free, an adventure which occurred on the forgot his masters anger—and in a leave it off since. Two or three weeks Whiggery.' Lorenzo, enraged at his rival's tr. part of another hunter he had fullen few moments was on his way to the see Uncle Joshua and I was in the

One Secret of a Happy Life.

We were in company the other day

The clock struck ten, and the old his gun over the log to take rest, and I should make it a point to do a kind-all alone, and hollering at the very top it's drifting that way, or else Ive forget man, bidding me good night, went his just as he had taken sight, and was ness to a fellow being whenever I had of his voice Hurrah for Gineral Scott? Low to cipher. Jest book at the Legisway, and I returned to the hotel. The ready to tu'l the trigger, what should the opportunity. I regret very much | Uncle Joshua looked as cross as there | Last year in the Senate there he see but another long gun directly that my habit has been so different, der, and Cousin Joel colored a little as we about five Demograte to one Whig. where I found a letter from my father, opposite, siming at the same object! and that I have induced feelings so me soon as he seems has soon as he seems has soon as he want has and now the Whige have elected fourcontaining a wish that I would visit. He had harely time to drop down be like these which would lead to such a hat again, and sung out once more, teen Senators and the Democrats only coming into the log behind which he took care of myself. If some little tree- Joshua. dealy finishing the sentence, to the from the thoughtlessness or selfishness Joel, putting on his hat and jumping off the State goes for Scott, I believe the great amozement of the company.

Scarcely anything more character sometimes used harsh and reproveded. Well, this is a pretty piece of business and all.

tenance.

All this was said with an air of deep! Note Jude's much away, letting it for. There gives are the first unto all men as I had opportunity !

at others a suggestion of advantage to liked that any better.

tule. And thus every instance of kind-ness done, whether acknowledged or not, opens up a little wellspring of hap-piners in the doer's own breast, the flow abit - Penny Gazette.

Letter from Major Jack Downing

Saturday, Sept. 18, 1852. Mit. Galles & Seaton :-My dear dark scowl on his brow. He was think-old friends, I wish I had better news to write to yen. I'm posky afraid Giner-when I come in Says Aunt Resiah, al Scatt is coming in. And, arter all, says she. I'm dreadful glad you've I don't know why I should feel so come in, Major ; your uncle will make von better than anyholy; and you know the legislation of it, especially on my own know on will find me in Reanoke when you come back!

'I felt my blood rising,' and Mr. Randolph's friend, and could not as your end about 1 in the post-office, and like should lose that for Uncle in the post-office, and like should lose that for Uncle in the post-office, and like should lose that Randolph I could not be that the film. He's had it now more that the list end of it born. Major; said Uncle Jashua, and the lock disclosured by the list end of it born. Major; was a coming out at the list end of it born. Major; and Uncle I would should lose the last and the lock disclosured by the list end of it born. Major; and Uncle I was a specially on my own had a second for the should lose the last of it born. Major; and Uncle I was a specially on my own had a second for the should lose the last of it born. He's had it now more feel bad. Says lee I don't had the lose of the last of the last of the lose of the last of the last of the lose of the last of the can't live without hurrabing for some- then twenty-seven thousand.

nass was committed on my rights, or if | 4 say herrals for Gineral Scott, and now it dont look as though we als

I sought the grave of the Marquis; istic of Mr Randolch is recorded of language toward the offender.

Let use the Marquis; istic of Mr Randolch is recorded of language toward the offender.

Let use the Marquis; istic of Mr Randolch is recorded of language toward the offender.

Lam now satisfied that my own haps examples as this to the neighbors. The Whigs haven't gained so much as with him the ellence of the tomb. It the following incident, which occurred piness was greatly impaired by this There's many a word spake in jeest you think for, after all. It looks bad was Josephene, the Signora. Heaven on the marring he was to leave for had answered her prayer.

I set down sorrowfully at the foot of the grave thinking of the tracio term. The Steamer is waiting to contribute the other day, continued to the prayer thinking of the tracio term.

I had answered her prayer.

I set down sorrowfully at the foot of the grave thinking of the tracio term. The Steamer is waiting to contribute the other day, continued to the prayer thinking of the tracio term. unhappiness of others.

It was but the other day, continued you once get em started there's no 'No no, it fan't that,' said Encle Josh > o'c'ock, and that the Steamhoat waits came up, the carriage occupied the Whig say so, and let us put you out In the last Congress we had fice Den . for nobedy? Why, you are not even whole of the sidewalk, and prevented of the synagogue at once, and be done ocracic Representatives and the Why my passing. The fellow looked as if it with it. I want a plain right up and two. Well, now how is if. In the 'I can't he'n it sir,' replied he, ought not to be exactly so, and their down answer, are you going for Giner- next Congress this state has six Repre-days in that leved spot, which had now thing goes wrong ; even my memory in with your carriage, man, and not Then why in the name of common three. It's jest an even halance, and a become so endeared to me, and then re has gone wool gathering. I am just let it stand here blocking up the pass sense don't you harry for limit said few more of them foolish harrales for writing a farewell address to my con- age." But a better influence prevail- Uncle Joshua, fund try to get up some Gineral Scott will tip the State agin to stituents, and I've forgotten the ere ed : I went to the rear of the carriage enthusuamusy. You ought to be asked . Well, we wont stir rouse, says I. med to throw your forrule away on and try to stop this horizh business, needn't ask me to hurral for him, for I thirds of the members of the host Con-And when I look back upon me in- can't stand no such tom-feelery as that grees polaces, whose gilded domes were mirfortunate caution. Mrs Deane carried I loved thee, oh -; but for the life tercourse with my follow-men all the free tried it, and it won't go no how rored in the smooth waters of the Brenwith her to church, and thus saved it. of me, I can't recollect the next way along I can confidently say that I it makes me fort so much like digging state of the recollect the next way along I can confidently say that I never did a kindness to any human being without being happier for it. So when I get right hunger for a horrab. I that if I were governed by more selfich motives, and wanted to live the hapthere's refreshment and couri-human in There contecting the class. pleat life I could. I would just simply that something like real meat; it makes led their Representatives to the next skey the Bible precept, to do good me feet as it used to when we gin the Congress yet, and that is blank, a compunione around. Towards evening we stemped achore, about four miles from Verice, and entered a hoste near the production of the Brenis of the verice, and entered a hoste near the production of the Brenis of the verice, and entered a hoste near the production of the Brenis of the verice, and entered a hoste near the production of the Brenis of the verice, and entered a hoste near the force we reach the production the Brenis of the steament is belonged to the Marquis Spond it.

The scene in Ric Castello árose vivilla force we have the lately, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the production of the lostely, a glass of milk had been the production of the lostely and some the lostely and some the lostely and some the lostely and some the production of the lostely and some the some time the lostely and some the production of the lostely and some the lostely and some the some time to strangers, as some as the lostely and some the lostely and som which may be made permanent by trying to find not how the election's gone, but it's a hard sum to work out. I went over this worning to help Uncle papers spread all around him, and a

I thought you had more compassion of it because it was give to him by dear like the looks of it a bitt; the State is for your slaves. Surely, you are un- old Gineral da kson. He loves it now on the back track again towards Whig-post-office I know it would brenk his election all round and got things hadly heart. And that's what makes me feel mixed up; but if we sift eth out careful-so had at the turn things has took down by we shall find the Democrats as 'He does,' I replied, 'and you may this way in favor of Gineral Scott. If strong as ever.' Uncle Joshus shock my way could be contrived to keep Uncle Joshus in the post-office. I was irritated, sir,' he alied turn things his took down by we shall find the Democrate as the figure of the same sort of feeling did come in. And I guess there's a good deal of the same sort of feeling did. The same s ey. I'll just give you a sample of it, eight thousand votes, and Mr. Crosby. There's Cousin Sargest Joel, he the Whig ca didnte, has a little more tween Randolph and his servant - day. He got in a habit of it in old the Whig vote. This don't look as barn, planning a little about getting out said Uncle Joshua: to good many thouthe voters to the election, when all to sand of temperance Whige roted for once we heard somebody back of the Hubbard, and a good many rum Whige barn holler with all his might, 'Harrah voted for Chandler and when the Legfor Gineral Scott " We both started islature comes to meet, Crosby will sequent to the event in Rui Castello, he to get a large number in range. with a gentleman apparently fifty or and run around the corner of the part and run around the corner of the part and one of each and better with a gentleman apparently fifty or and run around the corner of the barn stand jest as good a chance to be chose Were I to live my life over again, trading on a stump, swinging his hat 2d of Navember, and you may depend It has been too much my way to let who hears it."

Hurran for Scott, and I don't care seven, leaving nine to ten no choice, or doubtful. And there is the House it doubtful. And there is the House it other sportsman, the whole charge others take care of themselves while I 'What's that you say? said Uncle aint much hetter. Last year we had a clear majority of more than thirty, and "Lying!" said Mr Randolph, and- I suffered some slight inconvenience I don't care who hears it, says Cousin have more than ten majority. And if along the street, and a coachman was I dont much care what il be the end pend upon it the State has get a Whig 'Mr. Randolph,' he says. 'In the attempting to draw a light carriage into on't, said Cousin Joel.

Legislature will go that way too- Gov-

The Congressmen tells the sto.

The Congressmen tells the sto.

Why Joel, what do you mean?' said ry, and there the rum business has nother twice without success, and just as I Uncle Joshun; if you are going to turn in to do with it.

other side. and may be we can save the state yet. Now unrice Joshua I'll tell you what I'll ketch Sargent Jost at it again all tis.' said Sargent Joel straightening entitier him. If Democrate can't harrab Thank ye, sir; much obliged. I would himself up just as he wed to at the for Pierce they musto't be allowed to not have taken a twenty deliar hands head of the company in Nullification harrals for nelectly. But after all, Unnote for the streak of sunshine that times, seen he. I'll tell you what 'tis, cle, suppose we should be this best, this one little not of kindness three over Uncle Johns. I'm willing to note for the notion is safe for the Personner. tance from the house, secreted in a Do you remember any part of the the rost of my walk, to say nothing of Gineral Pierce to help you keep the You must remember we take a large wall. Mr Deans had in his house quotation? asked his friend, perhaps the lighting up of the coachman's coun post-office, and I mean to: but you majority of the States and might to .